요약 및 평가※

■ 최근 우리 경제는 대외 여건이 급격히 악화되며 경기 하방 압력이 확대되는 모습

● 대내외 수요 증가세가 축소됨에 따라 생산이 둔화되는 모습

- 설비투자의 양호한 흐름에도 불구하고, 건설투자의 부진이 지속되고 소비 증가세는 미약한 수준을 보이며 내수 회복을 제약
- 수출은 연초의 낮은 수준에서 일부 반등하였으나, 증가세 둔화 흐름은 지속
- 이에 따라 생산 측면에서도 건설업이 큰 폭의 감소세를 지속하였으며, 광공업과 서비스업이 완만한 증가세를 보임.

● 미국의 관세인상으로 국제 통상 여건이 악화되면서 수출 하방 압력이 확대

- 무역 갈등이 심화되면서 세계경제 성장세 전망이 하향 조정되고 수출기업을 중심으로 기업심리가 위축
- 4월 들어 미국의 관세인상이 본격화됨에 따라 수출 여건이 더욱 악화

※ 별도의 언급이 없을 경우 모든 증가율은 전년동월대비 기준임.

■ 생산 증가세가 둔화되는 가운데, 대외 여건도 악화되며 경기 하방 압력이 확대

● 2월 전산업생산(-3.7% → 1.2%)이 증가하였으나, 이는 주로 조업일수(-4.0일 → +1.5일) 확대에 기인한 것으로 생산 증가세 둔화 흐름은 지속되는 모습

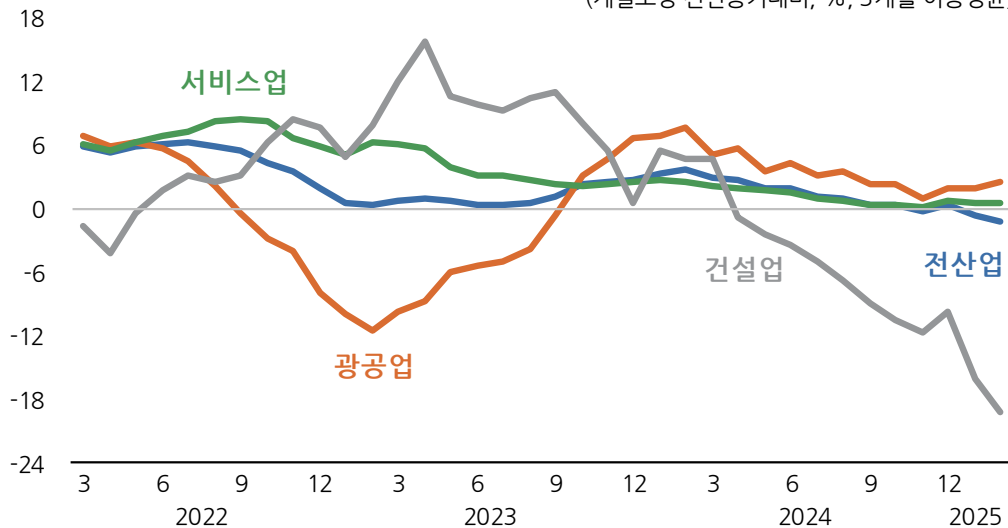

- 광공업생산(-4.7% → 7.0%)은 반도체(11.6%)가 양호한 증가세를 유지한 가운데, 전월 일시적으로 감소하였던 자동차(14.6%), 전기장비(3.9%) 등이 개선되며 증가폭이 확대
- 서비스업생산(-0.9% → 0.8%)도 도소매업(1.2%), 금융보험업(2.6%)을 중심으로 완만하게 증가
- 그러나 건설업생산(-27.4% → -21.0%)은 큰 폭의 감소세를 지속
- 조업일수 영향이 보정된 계절조정 전년동월대비 증가율 기준으로도 건설업(-21.7%)이 크게 감소한 가운데, 광공업(1.0%)과 서비스업(0.1%)도 낮은 증가세에 그치며 산업 전반에서 생산이 둔화되는 모습

● 평균가동률(73.5% → 73.1%)이 하락하는 등 제조업생산은 다소 조정되는 모습

- 다만, 계절조정 전월대비 기준으로 제조업 출하가 1.3% 증가하고 재고는 1.2% 감소하면서 재고율(110.6% → 107.8%)은 전월보다 하락

산업별 생산지수

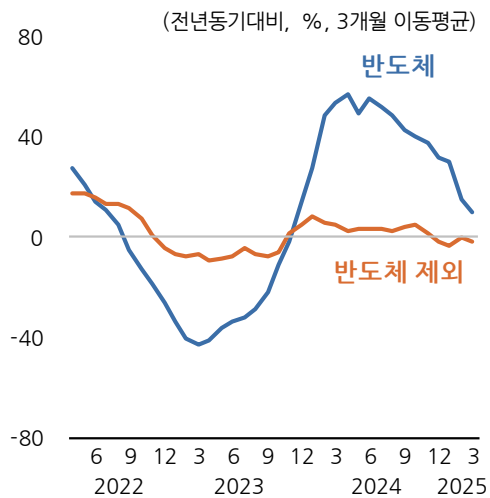

(계절조정 전년동기대비, %, 3개월 이동평균)

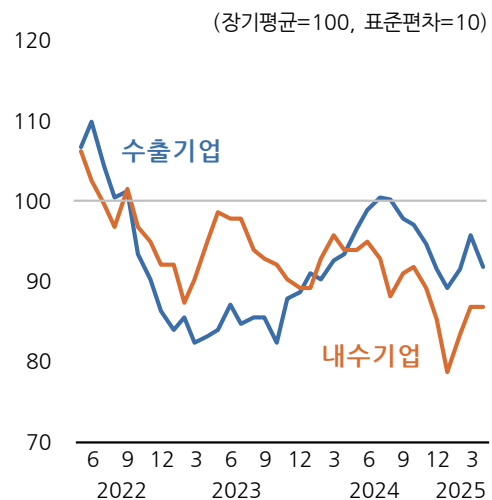

● 미국의 통상정책 변화 등 대외 여건이 악화됨에 따라 수출기업을 중심으로 기업심리가 위축

- 반도체 수출 증가세가 조정되는 가운데, 국제 통상 여건이 악화되면서 여타 품목도 부진한 흐름을 이어감.
- 이에 따라 수출기업 심리가 위축되었으며, 내수기업 심리도 낮은 수준에 머무름.
- 아울러 4월 들어 미국의 관세인상이 본격화됨에 따라 기업심리가 더욱 위축될 가능성

품목별 일평균 수출

■ 소비심리가 다소 위축된 가운데, 소비 부진이 지속되는 모습

- 개별소비세 인하에 기인하여 승용차가 반등하였으나, 전체 소매판매는 감소세를 지속 하면서 상품소비의 부진을 나타냄.
 - 설 명절 이동(작년 2월, 올해 1월)의 영향으로 2월 내구재(-8.9% → 13.7%)가 큰 폭으로 증가한 반면, 준내구재(-1.3% → -6.8%)와 비내구재(4.3% → -7.5%)는 대폭 감소
 - 설 명절 이동의 영향이 배제된 1~2월 평균 기준으로 보더라도, 내구재(2.0%)가 승용차(10.4%)를 중심으로 반등하였으나, 준내구재(-4.0%)와 비내구재(-1.4%)의 부진에 따라 소매판매(-1.1%)는 감소세를 지속
- 서비스소비도 숙박·음식점업 등 주요 업종을 중심으로 미약한 흐름을 지속
 - 1~2월 평균 기준으로 숙박·음식점업(-3.7%), 예술·스포츠·여가서비스업(-5.6%), 교육 서비스업(-1.8%) 등 소비와 밀접한 주요 서비스업의 생산이 감소세를 보임.
- 한편, 3월 소비자심리지수(93.4)가 작년 12월의 극심한 위축에서는 벗어나고 있으나, 여전히 기준치(100)를 하회하는 낮은 수준에 머무름.

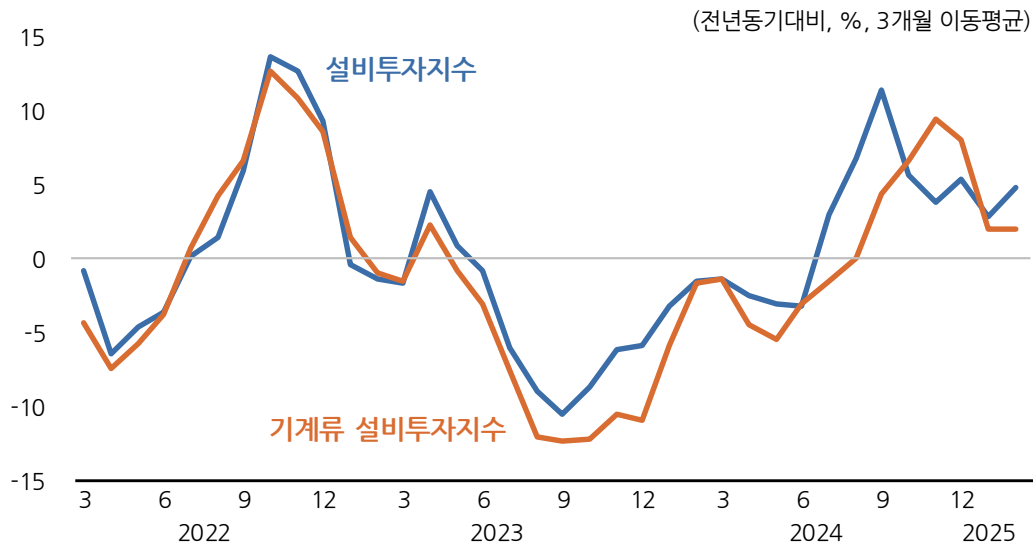

소매판매액지수 및 소비자심리지수

■ 설비투자는 반도체를 중심으로 양호한 흐름이 이어지고 있으나, 하방 위험은 확대

- 2월 설비투자(-5.1% → 7.7%)는 조업일수 확대 및 반도체 관련 투자의 호조로 증가
 - 운송장비(13.1% → 4.3%)는 변동성이 큰 기타운송장비(44.5% → -4.5%)가 감소하였으나, 자동차(-0.9% → 9.2%)가 개별소비세 인하의 영향으로 개선되며 증가세를 이어감.
 - 기계류(-10.1% → 8.8%)는 반도체제조용장비(-6.7% → 11.4%), 정밀기기(-8.5% → 21.1%) 등 반도체 관련 설비투자를 중심으로 증가
 - * 1~2월 평균 기준으로 반도체제조용장비(2.4%)와 정밀기기(5.4%)는 증가세를 유지
 - 선행지표인 3월 반도체제조용장비 수입액(33.5% → 85.1%)도 큰 폭으로 증가하면서 반도체 관련 설비투자의 양호한 흐름이 지속될 가능성을 시사
- 다만, 미국의 관세인상 등 수출 여건 악화로 향후 설비투자가 제약될 가능성

설비투자지수

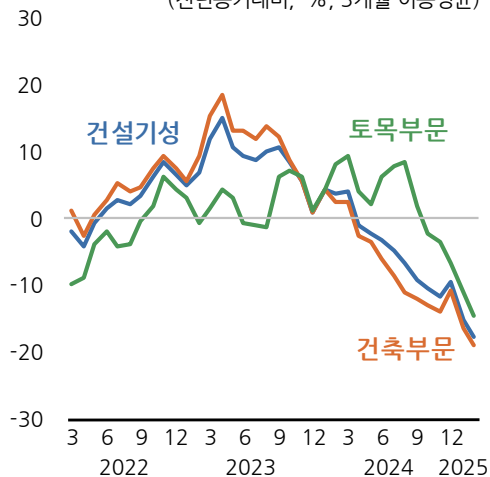

■ 건설기성이 큰 폭의 감소세를 지속하는 등 건설투자는 부진을 지속

 - 건축부문(-28.8% → -23.9%)의 극심한 부진이 지속되는 가운데, 토목부문(-22.5% → -11.1%)은 감소폭이 일부 축소
 - 계절조정 전월대비 기준으로도 건축(-2.2%)은 감소한 반면, 토목(13.1%)은 비교적 큰 폭으로 증가
- 다만, 선행지표의 개선세가 향후 점진적으로 반영되며 건설투자 여건이 다소 개선될 가능성도 존재
 - 12개월 누적 기준으로 건설수주가 14% 수준의 증가세를 유지하며 건설투자의 극심한 부진이 향후 점차 완화될 가능성을 시사

■ 높은 증가세를 보이던 ICT 수출이 점차 조정되며 수출 증가세가 둔화되는 가운데, 미국의 관세인상으로 수출 하방 압력이 확대되는 모습

● 3월 수출은 전월(0.7%)보다 높은 3.1%의 증가율을 기록하였으며, 일평균 기준으로도 5.5% 증가하면서 1~2월의 저조했던 흐름을 일부 만회

- 다만, 1/4분기 수출은 ICT 증가폭 축소에 주로 기인하여 2.1% 감소하며 수출 증가세 둔화 흐름을 시사

* ICT, 선박 제외 일평균 수출액(%): (1월) 1.8 → (2월) -5.6 → (3월) -0.8

- 국가별로는 일평균 기준으로 對중국 수출(-1.9%)이 반도체(-3.5%)를 중심으로 감소세를 이어갔으나, 對미국 수출(4.6%)은 자동차(-9.3%), 일반기계(-7.6%)의 감소에도 반도체(21.2%), 컴퓨터(74.8%) 등이 호조세를 이어가며 증가

● 한편, 4월 미국의 관세인상이 본격화됨에 따라 수출 여건이 급격히 악화되는 모습

총수출, 일평균 수출 및 수출물량지수

(전년동기대비, %, 3개월 이동평균)

■ 건설업과 제조업 고용이 감소한 가운데, 모든 연령대에서 실업률이 상승하는 등 고용 여건의 둔화가 지속

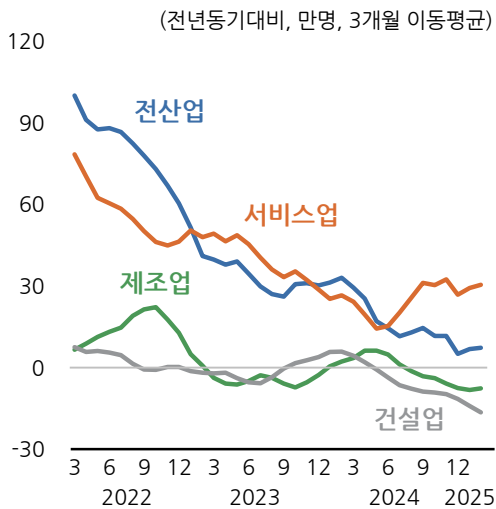

● 2월 취업자 수 증가폭은 전월과 유사한 13.6만명을 기록

- 서비스업(34.5만명 → 39.5만명)은 정부일자리 사업의 영향으로 보건·사회복지(11.9만명 → 19.2만명)의 증가폭이 확대되면서 높은 증가세를 기록
- 그러나 제조업(-5.6만명 → -7.4만명)과 건설업(-16.9만명 → -16.7만명)이 큰 폭으로 감소하면서 전체 취업자 수 증가세는 완만한 수준에 그침.

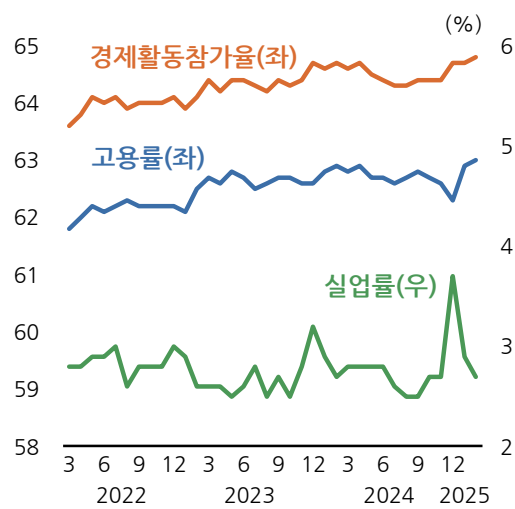

● 모든 연령대에서 실업률이 상승한 가운데, 고용률의 상승세도 완만해지는 모습

- 상대적으로 실업률이 높은 20대 인구 비중의 감소로 계절조정 실업률(2.7%)이 전월대비 0.2%p 하락하였으나, 20대(6.2% → 6.4%), 40대(1.9% → 2.1%) 등 모든 연령대에서 실업률이 전월대비 상승하며 고용 여건 둔화를 반영
- 30대(80.4% → 80.6%) 고용률은 상승하였으나, 20대(60.4% → 59.8%) 고용률이 하락세를 지속하면서 계절조정 고용률은 전월과 유사한 63.0%를 기록

■ 수요 압력이 낮게 유지되고 있으나, 공공서비스가격 상승으로 물가 상승세는 전월과 유사한 수준에 머무름.

● 3월 소비자물가는 전월(2.0%)과 유사한 2.1%의 상승률을 기록

– 대학교 등록금 인상에 주로 기인하여 공공서비스가격이 전월(0.8%)보다 높은 1.4%의 상승률을 기록

– 반면, 석유류(6.3% → 2.8%)는 최근 국제유가 하락과 기저효과 등으로 상승폭이 둔화

* 두바이유(달러/배럴): (1월) 80.4 → (2월) 77.9 → (3월) 72.5

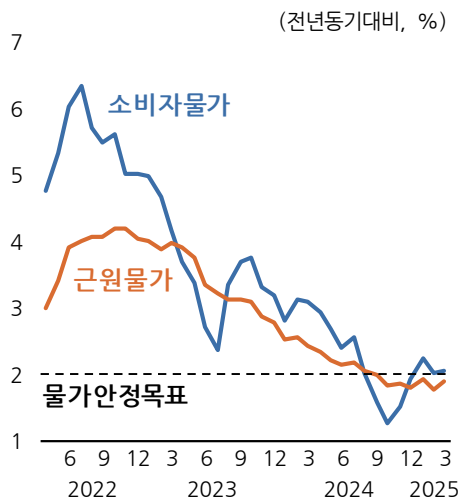

– 한편, 높은 환율 상승세가 지속되면서 향후 소비자물가의 상방 압력으로 작용할 가능성

* 원/달러 환율(월평균, 전년동월대비, %): (1월) 10.0 → (2월) 8.5 → (3월) 9.5

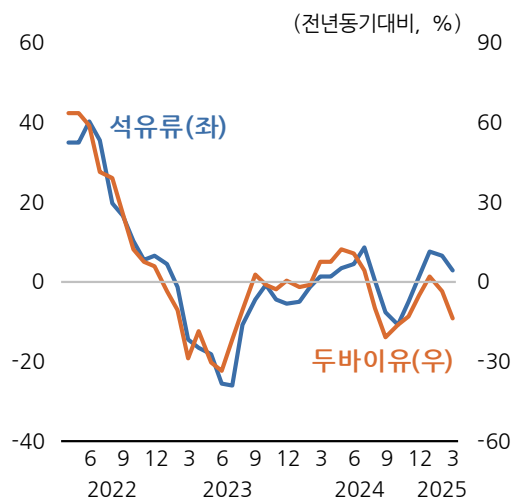

● 수요 압력이 낮게 유지됨에 따라 근원물가(1.8% → 1.9%)도 전월과 유사한 흐름을 지속

– 근원물가 상승폭 확대는 대학교 등록금 인상의 영향(기여도: 0.01%p → 0.07%p)에 주로 기인

 - 서울 주택매매가격(0.04% → 0.18%)의 상승폭이 확대되었고 매매거래량(7.3천호)이 크게 증가하며 최근 3년의 2월 평균 거래량(4.5천호)을 큰 폭으로 상회
 - 다만, 3월 24일 토지거래허가구역이 확대 지정됨에 따라 서울의 매매가격 상승 및 거래량 증가는 일시적일 가능성
- 서울 외 지역에서는 매매가격 하락세가 이어지고 준공 후 미분양(2.4만호)이 비수도권(1.9만호)을 중심으로 증가하는 등 주택경기가 둔화되는 모습

Summary and Assessment※

- The Korean economy is facing mounting downward pressure as external conditions deteriorate rapidly.
 - Weakened growth in domestic and external demand is weighing on production.
 - While equipment investment remains on a solid trajectory, continued sluggishness in construction investment and weak consumption growth are limiting the pace of domestic demand recovery.
 - Exports have partially rebounded from their early-year lows; however, the overall pace of growth continues to moderate.
 - As a result, construction production continued to decline sharply, while growth in industrial and service production remained modest.
 - U.S. tariff hikes have exacerbated global trade conditions, intensifying downward pressure on exports.
 - With trade tensions rising, global growth projections have been revised downward, and business sentiment is weakening among export-oriented companies.
 - Export conditions further worsened as the impact of U.S. tariff hikes began to weigh on trade in April.

※ All growth figures are on a year-on-year basis unless otherwise noted. This document is an English translation of the original Korean version. In case of any ambiguities or discrepancies, the Korean version shall prevail.

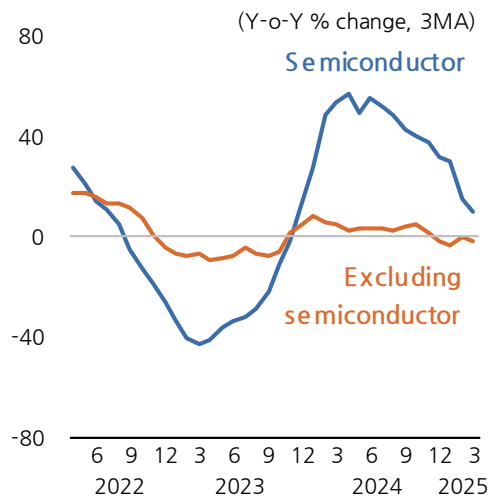

■ With production growth slowing, the deterioration in external conditions is intensifying downward pressure.

- All-industry production in February ($-3.7\% \rightarrow 1.2\%$) increased, mainly due to the rise in working days ($-4.0 \rightarrow +1.5$ days), with the slowdown in production growth persisting.
 - Industrial production ($-4.7\% \rightarrow 7.0\%$) rebounded, driven by sustained strength in semiconductors (11.6%) and the recovery of motor vehicles (14.6%) and electrical equipment (3.9%), which had posted temporary drops in the previous month.
 - Services production ($-0.9\% \rightarrow 0.8\%$) posted a modest gain, led by wholesale and retail trade (1.2%) and financial and insurance activities (2.6%).
 - Construction production ($-27.4\% \rightarrow -21.0\%$) continued its sharp decline.
 - On a seasonally and working-day-adjusted basis, construction production (-21.7%) remained deeply negative, while industrial (1.0%) and services (0.1%) production posted only slight gains, pointing to an overall slowdown in production.
- The average capacity utilization rate fell ($73.5\% \rightarrow 73.1\%$), indicating a moderation in manufacturing production.
 - On a seasonally adjusted month-on-month basis, manufacturing shipments rose by 1.3%, while inventories declined by 1.2%, bringing down the inventory-to-shipment ratio ($110.6\% \rightarrow 107.8\%$).

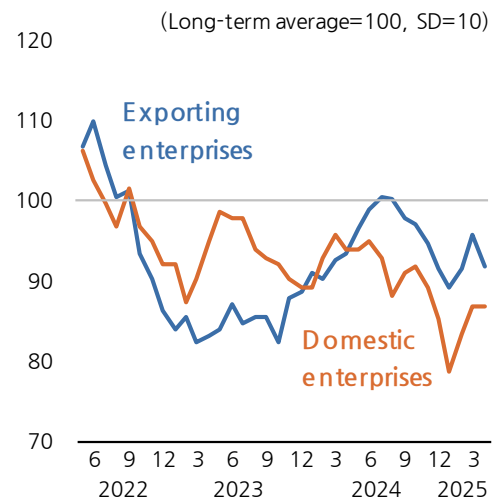

- Deteriorating external conditions, such as changes in U.S. tariff policy, have dampened business sentiment, especially among export-oriented firms.
 - Growth in semiconductor exports has slowed, and worsening global trade conditions have also weighed on other export items.
 - Sentiment among export-oriented firms has weakened, while confidence among domestic-oriented firms remains low.
 - Moreover, with the impact of U.S. tariff hikes beginning to materialize in April, business sentiment is likely to come under further pressure.

Manufacturing Conditions Outlook BSI

■ Consumption remains sluggish, with consumer sentiment appearing subdued.

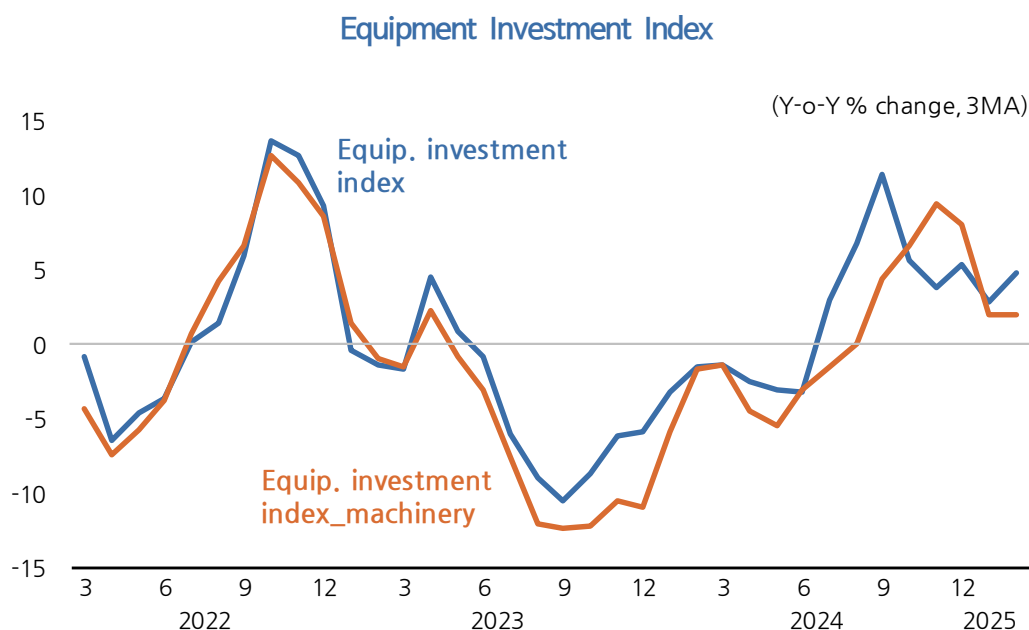

- Passenger car sales rebounded due to excise tax cuts, yet overall retail sales continued to fall, reflecting persistent weakness in goods consumption.
 - In February, durable goods sales rose sharply ($-8.9\% \rightarrow 13.7\%$) due to the timing shift of the Lunar New Year holiday (Feb. 2024 $\rightarrow$ Jan. 2025), while semi-durable ($-1.3\% \rightarrow -6.8\%$) and non-durable goods ($4.3\% \rightarrow -7.5\%$) posted declines.
 - Even after adjusting for the holiday effect by averaging January and February, durable goods posted a rebound (2.0%), driven by passenger car sales (10.4%), while overall retail sales continued to decline (-1.1%) amid contractions in semi-durables (-4.0%) and non-durables (-1.4%).
- Service consumption also remained subdued, particularly in major businesses such as accommodation and food services.
 - Based on January-February averages, accommodation and food services (-3.7%), arts, sports, and recreation-related services (-5.6%), and education services (-1.8%), which are closely related to consumption, all posted declines.
- Meanwhile, the Composite Consumer Sentiment Index (CCSI) rose to 93.4 in March, recovering from the sharp downturn in December, though it remains below the baseline (100).

■ Equipment investment maintained positive momentum led by the semiconductor sector, though downside risks have continued to build.

- Equipment investment (-5.1% → 7.7%) increased in February, supported by more working days and robust semiconductor-related investment.
 - Growth in transport equipment slowed (13.1% → 4.3%) as other transport equipment—a volatile category—declined (44.5% → -4.5%), while motor vehicles improved (-0.9% → 9.2%) following the excise tax cut.
 - Machinery investment (-10.1% → 8.8%) rose, driven by gains in semiconductor manufacturing equipment (-6.7% → 11.4%) and precision instruments (-8.5% → 21.1%).
 - * On a Jan.-Feb. average basis, semiconductor manufacturing equipment (2.4%) and precision instruments (5.4%) continued to post gains.
 - Imports of semiconductor manufacturing equipment—a leading indicator—increased sharply (33.5% → 85.1%) in March, suggesting that strength in semiconductor-related investment may continue.
- However, deteriorating export conditions, including the U.S. tariff hikes, could weigh on future equipment investment.

■ Construction investment remains sluggish, as evidenced by continued steep contractions in the value of construction completed.

- The value of construction completed in February (-27.4% → -21.0%) remained on a steep downward trajectory, extending the decline seen in the previous month.
 - The building construction sector (-28.8% → -23.9%) continued to experience severe contraction, although the decline in civil engineering eased somewhat (-22.5% → -11.1%).
 - On a seasonally adjusted month-on-month basis, building construction fell by 2.2%, while civil engineering rebounded sharply, rising by 13.1%.
- Meanwhile, as the positive momentum in leading indicators gradually materializes, conditions in construction investment may improve modestly.
 - Construction orders received maintained growth in the 14%-range on a 12-month cumulative basis, suggesting that the current downturn in construction investment could moderate over time.

■ Export growth is moderating as the strong momentum in ICT exports begins to adjust, while the recent U.S. tariff hikes are adding downward pressure.

- In March, exports rose by 3.1% from the previous month (0.7%), or by 5.5% on an average daily basis, partially offsetting the weakness seen in January and February.

- However, exports in Q1 2025 fell by 2.1%, mainly due to a slowdown in ICT export growth, indicating a moderation in the overall export growth.

- * Total exports (%): (Q3 '24) 10.5 → (Q4) 4.2 → (Q1 '25) -2.1

- * ICT exports (%): (Q3 '24) 38.5 → (Q4) 27.5 → (Q1 '25) 6.1

- By item, on an average daily basis, ICT (15.0%) posted solid growth, while vessels (55.0%), a highly volatile item, also saw a sharp increase. Most other items remained sluggish amid weak global demand.

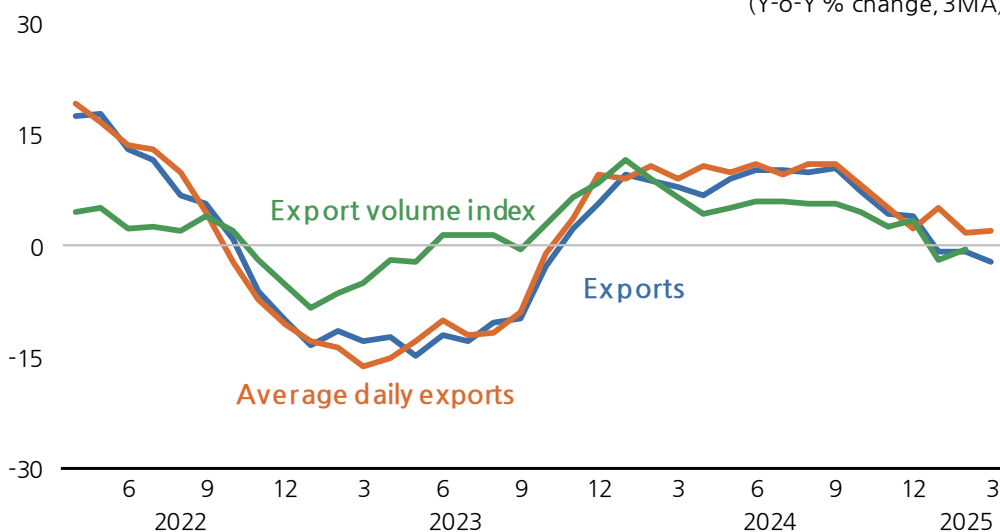

- * Average daily exports, excluding ICT and vessels (%): (Jan.) 1.8 → (Feb.) -5.6 → (Mar.) -0.8

- By destination, on an average daily basis, exports to China (-1.9%) continued to fall, driven by semiconductors (-3.5%), while exports to the U.S. (4.6%) increased despite declines in motor vehicles (-9.3%) and general machinery (-7.6%), supported by ongoing strength in semiconductors (21.2%) and computers (74.8%).

- Export conditions have worsened rapidly, following the escalation of U.S. tariff effects in April.

■ Employment conditions continue to weaken, with losses in construction and manufacturing and rising unemployment rates across all age groups.

- In February, the number of employed persons increased by 136,000, remaining at a similar level to the previous month.
 - Employment in services grew strongly (345,000 → 395,000), driven by a sharp rise in human health and social work activities (119,000 → 192,000), supported by ongoing government job programs.
 - However, significant losses in manufacturing (-56,000 → -74,000) and construction (-169,000 → -167,000) kept overall employment growth subdued.
- Unemployment rates rose across all age groups, while gains in the employment rate moderated.
 - The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate edged down to 2.7% (-0.2%p) month-on-month, mainly due to a decrease in the population share of those in their 20s, who typically exhibit higher unemployment. However, unemployment rates rose across all age groups, including those in their 20s (6.2% → 6.4%) and 40s (1.9% → 2.1%), indicating softening in labor market conditions.
 - While the employment rate for those in their 30s increased (80.4% → 80.6%), continued declines among those in their 20s (60.4% → 59.8%) kept the overall seasonally adjusted rate at 63.0%, similar to the previous month.

■ While demand-side pressures remain subdued, inflation held steady from the previous month due to rising public service prices.

● Consumer prices increased by 2.1% in March, similar to the previous month (2.0%).

– Public service prices rose by 1.4%, up from 0.8% in the previous month, mainly due to higher university tuition fees.

– In contrast, the pace of increase in petroleum product prices slowed (6.3% → 2.8%) amid falling oil prices and base effects.

* Dubai crude oil (USD/barrel): (Jan.) 80.4 → (Feb.) 77.9 → (Mar.) 72.5

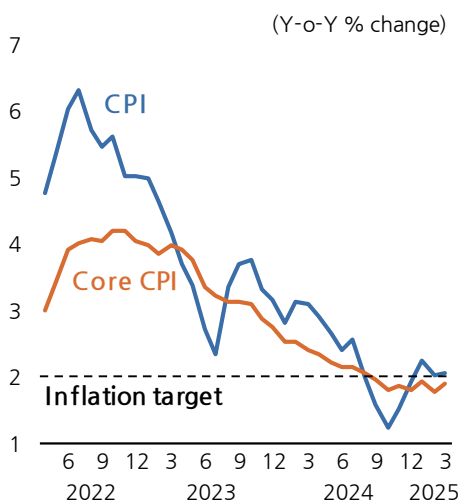

– The continued sharp depreciation of the won may place upward pressure on consumer prices going forward.

* KRW/USD exchange rate (monthly average, YoY, %): (Jan.) 10.0 → (Feb.) 8.5 → (Mar.) 9.5

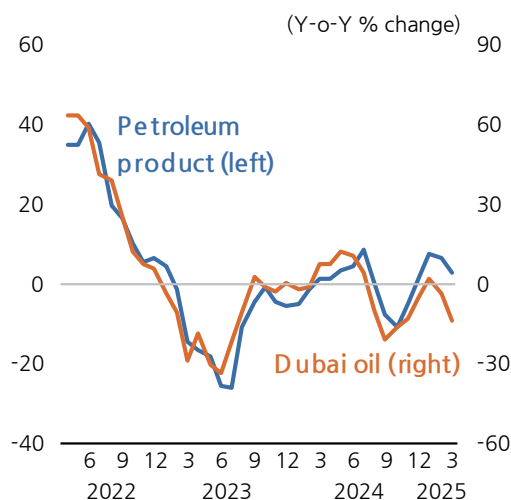

● Core inflation (1.8% → 1.9%) remained similar to the previous month, as subdued demand-side pressures persisted.

– Excluding the effect of higher university tuition fees (contribution: 0.01%p → 0.07%p), core inflation remained unchanged from the previous month.

Petroleum Product Prices and International Oil Prices

■ Financial markets experienced heightened volatility, with rising exchange rates and falling stock prices amid concerns over U.S. trade policy, although credit markets remained stable.

- In March, the CP spread (29bp → 35bp), yield curve spread (14bp → 20bp), and CDS premium (29bp → 39bp) all widened but stayed below their respective long-term averages (43bp, 34bp, and 40bp).
- The exchange rate rose to 1,472.9 won per dollar, up 0.6% from the end of the previous month and remaining at a high level, while the KOSPI declined by 2.0% to 2,481.
 - The daily fluctuation range of stock prices (KOSPI, 0.9% → 0.9%) and the KOSPI 200 Volatility Index (22.9 → 25.4) remained elevated, extending the trend from the previous month.
- Household loans increased moderately, mainly driven by home mortgage lending, while delinquency rates for both households and sole proprietorship business owners continued to rise.
 - The increase in household loans in February was likely driven by housing move-in demand ahead of the new school semester and the resumption of lending by financial institutions.

* Increase in household loans across all financial sectors (trillion won): (Dec. 2024) 2.0 → (Jan. 2025) -0.9 → (Feb.) 4.3

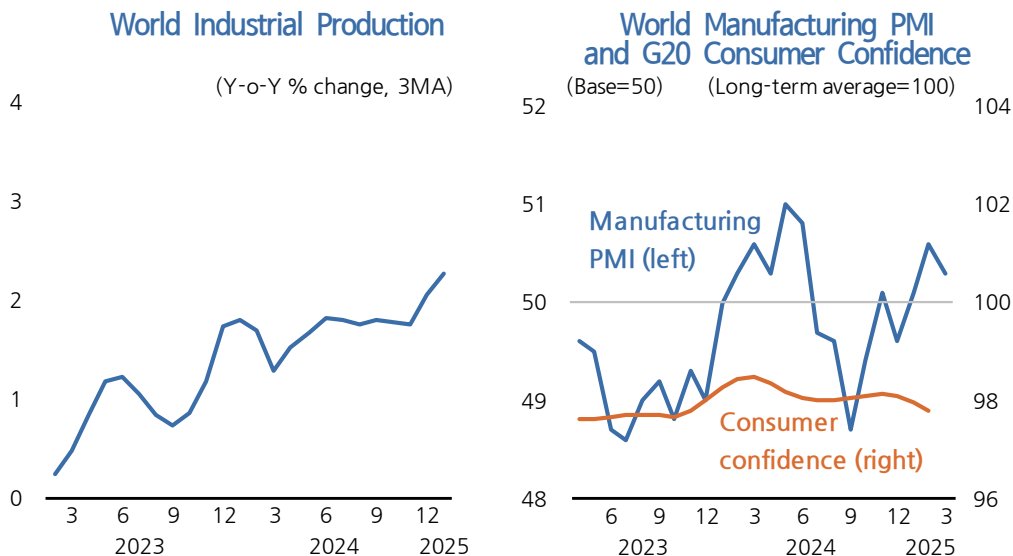

■ Housing sales prices rose in Seoul amid temporary regulatory easing, while the housing market outside Seoul weakened, particularly in non-capital regions.

- In February, housing sales prices remained on a downward trend ($-0.10\% \rightarrow -0.06\%$).
 - Jeonse prices remained nearly flat ($-0.02\% \rightarrow -0.01\%$), while monthly rents maintained a modest upward trend ($0.08\% \rightarrow 0.08\%$).
- In Seoul, housing sales prices and transaction volume surged, driven by the lifting of land transaction permission requirements in the Gangnam area.
 - Housing sales prices in Seoul rose more sharply ($0.04\% \rightarrow 0.18\%$), and transaction volume jumped to 7,300 units—well above the three-year February average of 4,500 units.
 - However, this recent uptrend may prove temporary, following the expansion of land transaction permission zones designated on March 24.
- Outside Seoul, the housing market continued to weaken, with sales prices continuing to decline and the number of unsold units after completion increasing to 24,000, with the increase concentrated in non-capital regions (19,000 units).
 - In Gyeonggi Province, sales prices fell further ($-0.08\% \rightarrow -0.10\%$), while the prolonged downtrend in non-capital regions also persisted ($-0.14\% \rightarrow -0.10\%$).

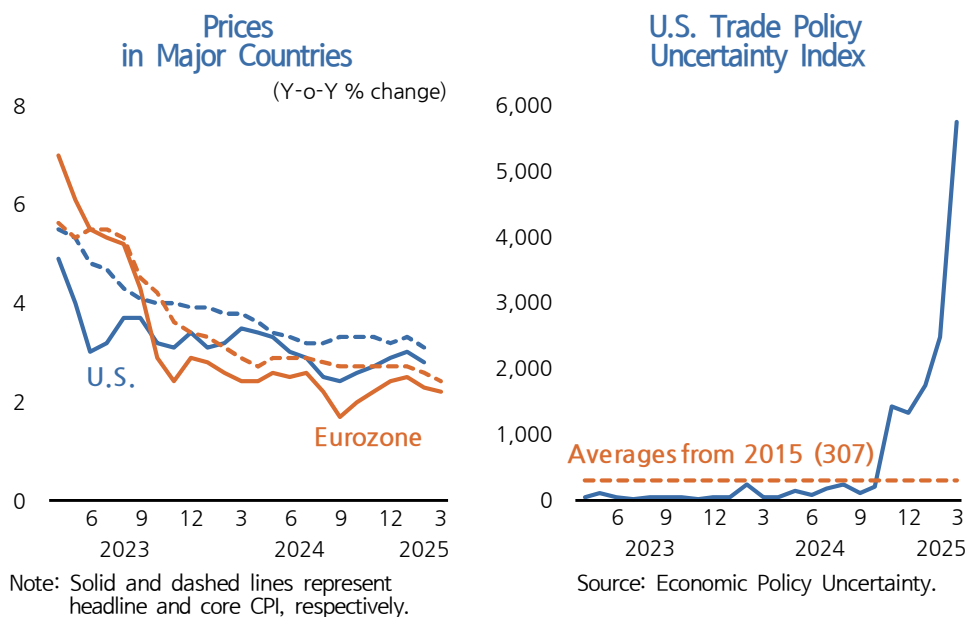

■ The global economy is facing mounting downward pressure, as reflected in worsening trade conditions and weakening leading indicators.

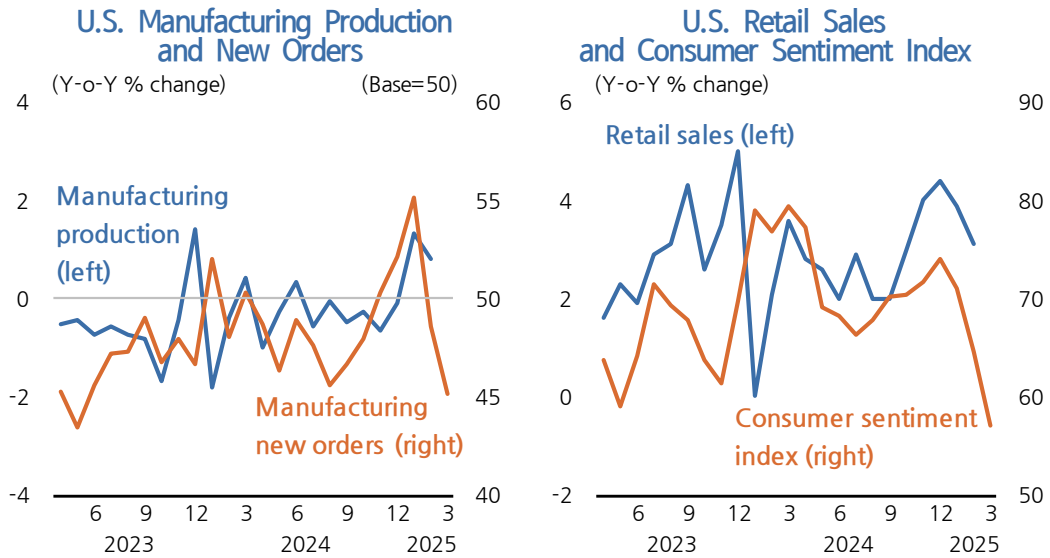

- While global industrial production saw modest gains, manufacturing business conditions indicators declined, and weakness in consumption-related indicators deepened further.

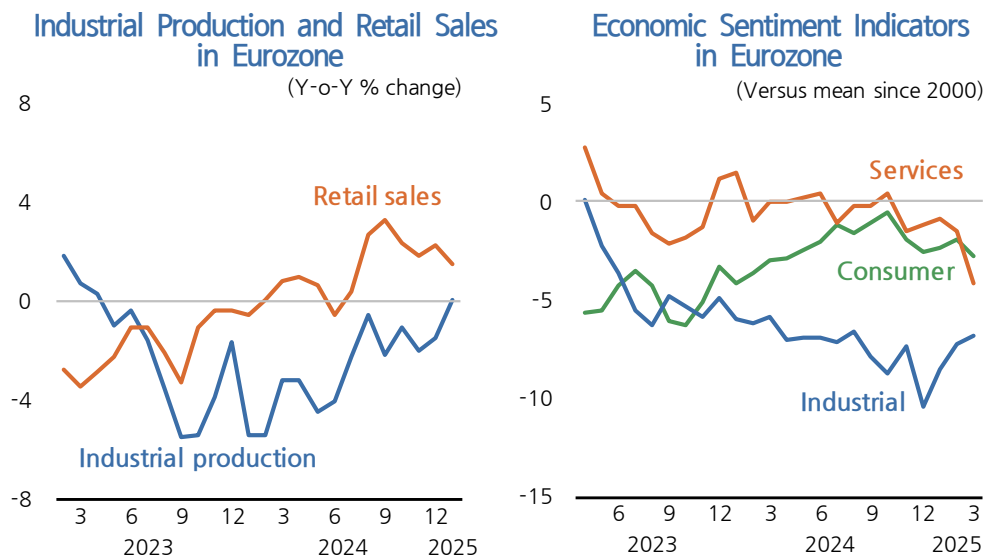

- Meanwhile, inflation trends in major economies continued to ease, even as global trade tensions escalated following U.S. tariff hikes.

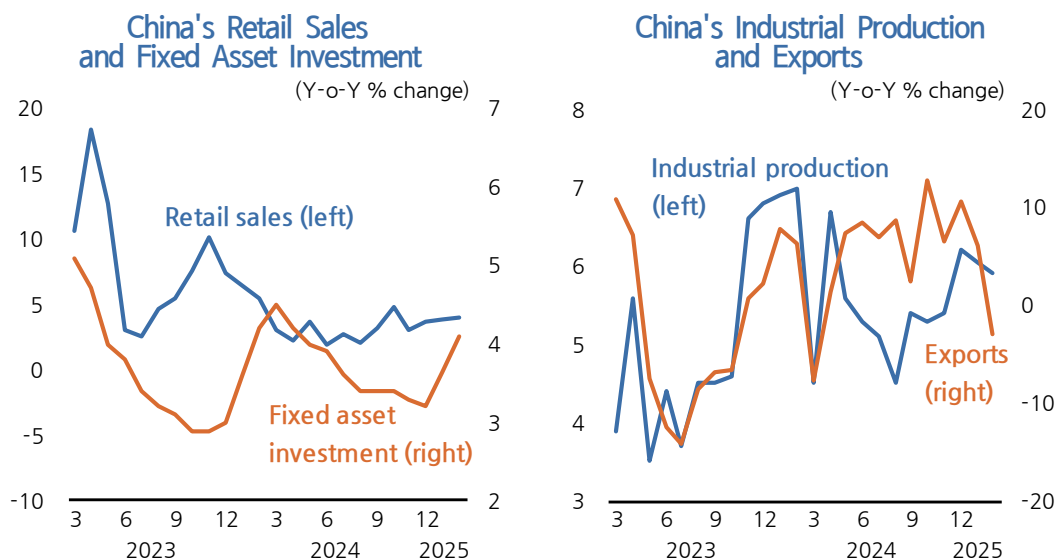

- The U.S. economy remains on a modest growth path, yet business sentiment has worsened and concerns over consumption have grown amid ongoing trade policy uncertainty.
 - Manufacturing new orders, retail sales, and consumer sentiment indicators weakened, leading to downward revisions in the 2025 economic growth outlook.

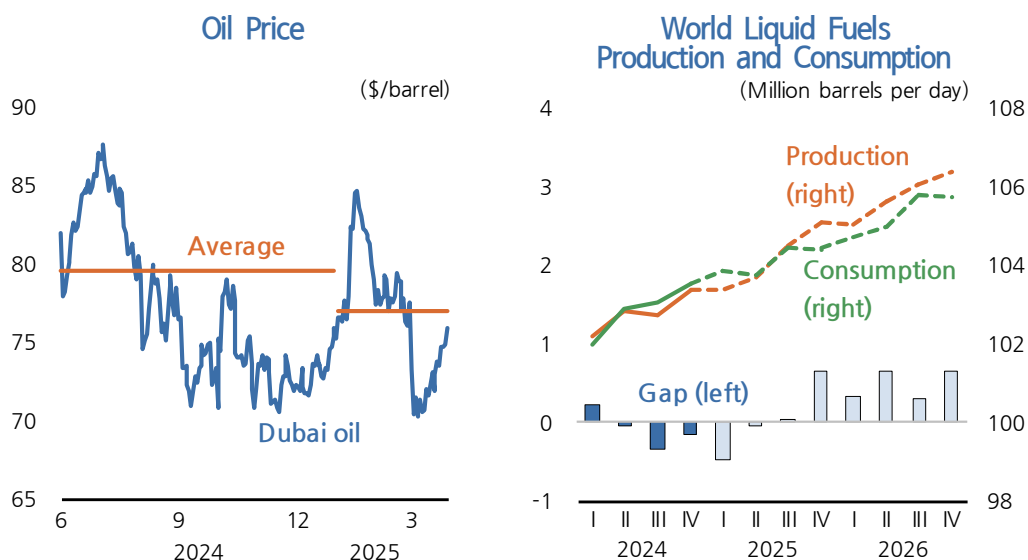

- Despite improved consumption and reduced contraction in the manufacturing sector, the Eurozone economy remains generally stagnant amid elevated policy uncertainty and geopolitical risks.
 - Concerns over recession have somewhat eased, supported by continued rate cuts and planned increases in government spending, yet growth forecasts remain subdued due to worsening internal and external conditions.

- The Chinese economy showed improvement in consumption, investment, and other real economy indicators, bolstered by stimulus measures, although uncertainty surrounding trade conflicts remains high.
 - Growth projections remain in the mid-4% range, largely owing to policy support, while export conditions have deteriorated due to U.S. tariff hikes.

- Oil prices fell in early March on expectations of expanded output from OPEC+, a possible easing of Russia sanctions, and intensifying global trade tensions, before rebounding to end-February levels as geopolitical risks escalated.
 - Despite concerns over a temporary inventory drop, oil prices remain predominantly under downward pressure, given anticipated supply increases from major producers in the second half of 2025.

Note: Figures from Q1 2025 onward are EIA projections.

- As trade conditions deteriorate and geopolitical risks persist, negative outlooks for the global economy are gradually spreading.
 - The OECD recently revised its global growth forecast for 2025 to 3.1%, down from its December 2024 projection of 3.3%.

- Global financial markets have shown signs of instability as trade conflicts intensify, with tensions centering on the U.S.
 - The dollar saw a sharp depreciation against major currencies as expectations of a U.S. growth slowdown gained traction, while stock market volatility in advanced economies and investment risks in emerging markets increased, driven by concerns over rising tariffs.
